

General FAQs about our Programs

- What's the difference between intown and travel soccer? Intown - cost $145, volunteer coach, fall season, 1 hour practice a week, everyone is welcome. Travel - cost $1000-1600, professional coach, fall/spring season, two 90 minute practices a week, competitive tryout
- How are program fees decided? We are a non-profit, so we figure registration fees based on our costs to provide the program. For InTown, this includes uniforms, equipment, youth referees, field fees, and insurance. Travel programs have the additional expense of trained professional coaches, out of town tournaments, and certified referees.
- Who decides if fields are closed? The town of Livingston maintains our fields and makes the decision based on weather/field conditions. You may direct any questions or comments about the fields to - <https://www.livingstonnj.org/720/Township-Officials>
- How can I become more involved? If you are interested in volunteering for the Board of Directors, email president@lsclub.com
